BILLS ARE UNDEMOCRATIC

Last week a mature Board of Directors officially voted to go on record in opposition to the so-called "restrictive Tenney bills" now in the State Legislature.

The Board, at that time, appointed three men to represen all State students at the Sacramento hearings on these bills.

Yesterday, the representatives of the Associated Students left for Sacramento to protest the bills which they feel are detrimental to the educational system of California.

Ratification of the Senate bills in question would put high school and college curricula in the hands of a group of legislators-legislators who are just as interested in highway repair and the establisment of recreational centers as they are in the development of an efficient educational program.

In other words, men trained in the study of public school curricula would relinquish their duties as advisers to legisla tors trained merely in the function of State politics.

Ratification of the Senate bills in question would prevent the presentation of any sectarian or denominational doctrine or politically controversial subject in any school.

In other words, studies of comparative religions, race relations, political parties, and theories contrary to those commonly accepted could not be presented in our high schools and colleges. Ideas would not be shared in the classroom-cut and dried subjects would be preached.

The absurdity of the "restrictive Tenney bills" is evident In a democracy where students should be taught both sides of any question, political or otherwise, that they might better be equipped to view any situation intelligently as future citizens, the passage of these bills would be a definite step away from freedom of speech and thought.

To visualize a high school or college program without visualizing students who are being taught to think for themselves on all issues relative to the world in which they live, is to create a important as all fudge because, as picture of despair. If the masses of people in any country were far as we know, it is the first postable to see both sides of an issue, political graft would be eliminated. If students were instructed adequately in matters of life. religion and race relations, prejudices would be diminished. The world needs education!

The Board of Directors is to be commended for upholding the principles of a democratic nation.

Doctor Needed at Sports Events

Is there a doctor in the house?

There should be no need for this question when a player is injured during a sports event. Yet, at Sports Night, held recently at State, one of the participants was injured, and no doctor was present.

The accident occurred during a tumbling exhibition put on by one of the athletic clubs in San Francisco. The show was not composed exclusively of State athletes, but it was sponsored by State and put on in the college gym. It seems that State should have been responsible for the safety of all par-

Although the athlete was not injured seriously, everyone at the event was concerned about the accident. In fact, there was a long interruption in the show while representatives from the various clubs tried to determine how serious the injury was.

It is customary for a doctor to be present at all State football games and boxing matches, but quite often there is none attending the college basketball games. Although the chance of players being injured in this game is not very great, there is always a possibility that a serious accident might occur.

To protect the athlete and assure him of professional treatment in case of injury, the college should inaugurate a policy of having a doctor present at all sports events.

The case of the boy who was injured at Sports Night is probably rare, but as long as such a possibility exists, steps should be taken to guard against such unfortunate occurrences in the future.-V. Am.

President Plugs 'Twelfth Night'

Starting on May 9, the dramatics department will put on the play, "Twelfth Night," at Aptos Junior High School Auditorium. This is one of the expertly conducted plays that has been produced all year under the direction of Mr. J. Fenton

I am very anxious for all of the faculty and students to have an opportunity to participate and to support these plays. The fees that are being charged are very nominal and are just barely enough to cover the cost of the actual production.

Up to date the attendance has been less than 10 per cent of the faculty and students, and I would like to urge both faculty and students to take advantage of the opportunity of seeing this play which is going to be the top production of the year.

One of the advantages of having a fine dramatics department is that it affords all of us a chance to see excellent productions. It would be a great matter of satisfaction to all of those who are in the play and to the dramatics department to be well supported.

Let's come out 100 per cent strong and give the final production of the year a rousing good audience.—J. Paul Leonard.

They had two or three plays which they ran under three or four To the Editor: titles. The manager figured that this way they would have a good run in each town.

After getting his A.B. from Pomona College and his M.A. from the University of California, Proctor joined the Army.

RUSSIAN INTERPRETER

Acting as a Russian interpreter for the American forces that met the Russians on the Elbe, he spent VE day in the headquarters of General J. Brickel, commanding officer of the 6th Russian Cavalry Division that had fought Stalingrad to the Elbe.

Gin, champagne, vodka, rum brandy and beer flowed like water at the general's headquarters. The general celebrated the victory by giving all present a ride in his Troika, a three-horse carriage which had been sent him from odocumented war film was one of A man who refuses to have his the funniest experiences Proctor had during the war.

The Russians herded a bunch of German P.O.W's over a dike on the Elbe with full pack and equipment and rifles minus ammunition. They repeated this shot several times to give the impression of a large number of troops.

In the final shot the Russian care alry, which was cleaned up for the occasion, came charging down to the river and the Germans backed up to the dike yelling "Kamerad." This film is being shown by the Russians as the official record of the Red Army reaching the Elbe. BACK TO GERMANY

After VE day his outfit moved back into Germany and lived in a castle with hot and cold running water. The general in charge had promised them a chateau, but they got a Schloss instead.

Leaving Germany, Proctor went back to Paris and spent three months studying French film techniques. Sightseeing in Paris gave him a chance to make several good contacts. He now corresponds in English French and Russian with people he met in France and England.

Proctor now is working toward his doctor's degree at the Univerator. Evidently, he hasn't had too sity of California and probably trouble because he still is will major in Slavic languages. There is also a possibility of his teaching Russian here next spring. COACHES FENCING

As coach of the fencing team, he is interested in building the squad up to the point where State will be able to compete with other major colleges. He says, "State had a good fencing team before the war, and we hope to have the same in the near future."

Netsters Maul Spartans, 9-0; Joe Woolfson in 20th Win

Garnering its eighth win in 11 starts, a high-powered State net squad last Saturday morning ran roughshod over an invading San Jose State racquet contingent to blank the Spartans, 9-0.

The win was an exceedingly juicy one for the Gators, who but two weeks ago barely "eked" the Spartans on their home court, 5-4, after having been down two point matches in the deciding doubles match. CAPTAIN WOOLFSON ROMPS TO 20TH VICTORY romped home over Gene Franco of San Jose, 6-2, 6-1. Franco completely lacked the spirit of play and put up a sad looking battle.
On the Golden Gate Park courts Gator Captain Joe Woolfson

Playing in the number two spot for the first time this season, Bill Holland gained revenge over San Jose's Don McKenzie by downing him in a hard fought battle, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4. In their former meeting Mc him in a nara lought buttle, 5-2, 3-0, 5-3. In their loring meeting meeting Meeting and the upper hand, coming out with a 7-5 in the third round.

The number three singles found State's Merrill Ehmke coming home with a 4-6, 6-4, 6-3 victory over Dave Parney.

In the number four spot, Gene Phillips dropped but three games to win, 6-1, 6-2, over Bob Brokop. In their last encounter, Brokup forced Phillips into a three setter before the Buchanan lad came out on top.

BARKER, CABURI COP REVENGE VICTORIES

Five and six singles were also revenge wins. Art Barker, playing stellar tennis, defeated Chet Bulwa, 6-3, 6-1, and Al Caburi sank Ed Terry, 10-8, 6-2. Barker and Caburi then combined talents to win their doubles, 4-6, 6-4, 7-5. Barker and Caburi both had dropped close ones in their singles and doubles in the first San Jose match

Ehmke and Phillips teamed to whip Parney and Brokop in the second doubles, 6-3, 6-4.

Woolfson and Holland finished the day with an easy 6-0, 6-1 victory over McKenzie and Terry in the first doubles.

NET ACE.—Joe Woolfson, captain of the Gator tennis team, has won 20 out of 21 intercollegigte matches to date. He is a heavy favorite to win the singles title tomorrow at Davis in the Far Western Conference meet. Woolfson has been beaten only by Harry Likas of USF, seeded 17th in the Nation. ### HAL HARDEN BATS. HURLS WAY TO DEFEAT

Twirling for State last Saturday against the alumni, handsome Hal Hardin found himself enmeshed in a real dilemma caught between the proverbial devil and the deep deep blue.

Alluded to as a traitor by the alumni for "mounting the mound" against them, "blooper ball" Hal was further accused by the Golden Tide of resorting to ye olde "double cross," of "selling out" to the alumni when he dropped the contest, 5-4.

To augment harrassed Hal's sense of guilt, he Casey'd twice, fell down once, and ballooned his famed "blooper" pitch.

Hardin's only statement at press time was, "Any straight-jacket will do!"

LAKE MERCED CAMPUS May 2.-Little Mike Keropian utility infielder for the champion Gator baseballers, proved his worth here today as he slapped a rousing two-run double to drive in the winning runs as the locals dumped Fresno State, 4-2.

Not a too frequent name in the batting lineup, Keropian came through as a pinch-hitter in the "big fifth" to drive in Keating from third and Pollard from second with his mighty two-base poke to left

HINCHEY BLOWS UP

All was in doubt for the home townies until the fifth. Bud Hinchey, Fresno pitcher, had the Gators eating out of his hand for the first four, but weakened badly to allow four runs on three hits two walks, a wild pitch and a sacrifice hit in the fifth inning.

The inning started not too auspiciously, with Jim Witt lofting a foul to the catcher. Pete Cuddyre followed with a single and advanced to third as left fielder, Gene Cox, belted a clean hit to left. Hinchey then uncorked a wild pitch and Cuddyre scored. Losing control completely, the Fresno
